

The World's Finest Spas

Our Spas win Condé Nast Traveller Awards

No fewer than thirty-two spas selected and photographed for our beautiful book, The Worlds Finest Spas, and included on our website were amongst those chosen in the Condé Nast Traveller's World's best spa awards for 2007.

Hotel spas, resort spas, urban day spas and health and wellbeing spas. The choice of spa is widening and more luxury spas are being developed and built around the world. The spa break is the phenomenon of the leisure industry, and no quality hotel or resort is complete without one.

This lifestyle harks back to the grand spa towns of Europe more than one-hundred years ago when spa breaks were prescriptive and high altitudes with their pure air and thermal baths were a precursor to illnesses long cured by modern medicine.

Our health is no longer taken for granted and the choice of spas and their variety of treatments are rightly becoming a part of our wellbeing programmes.
